Third Trial of Laurence D. Willis Results In Acquittal.

ONCE GIVEN LIFE TERM.

Remarkable Assassination and Chain of Circumstances Following It.

Cadiz, Ky., Sept. 9.—Laurence Willis was Saturday morning acquitted of the murder of his uncle, Lieut. Johnstone.

Thus closes the last chapter of a remarkable tragedy. Lieut. Johnstone, in March, 1903, was one night shot through a window and instantly killed. There had been family trouble over the division of the estate and Laurence Willis was arrested and charged with the assassination and his mother, Mrs. Bessie Willis, held as an accomplice. Mrs. Willis was soon dismissed. The first trial of Laurence Willis resulted in a life sentence, a second trial in a hung jury, and now he is acquitted.

The last jury was composed of A. J. Simmons, J. H. Sergeant, J. T. Higdon, Hugo Rex, E. W. Mason, William Sergeant, H. P. Rives, F. M. Morris, R. A. Morris, D. J. McChord, W. H. Brumfield, and R. H. Huggins all of Christian county.

About a year ago the will of the mother of Mrs. Willis and Lieut. Johnstone was discovered behind a picture frame, hanging on the wall in the house at Clarksville she had formerly occupied. The will left her estate to Mrs. Willis and was probated. If this will had been found earlier the whole tragedy and family trouble would have been averted.

During the several trials of the several defendants first indicted two attorneys have died while in active duty in the case. Two defendants, jointly indicted with Laurence Willis, have died since indictments have been returned and two of the principal prosecuting witnesses have died also.

Judge Kelly and Judge Sims were both prostrated on the court room floor by apoplexy and died. Mrs. Bessie Willis, mother of the defendant, died a short time ago, after she was cleared of the charge, and James Williams, who was jointly indicted, has since died. Cass Wallace, a principal prosecuting witness, at whose house the shooting took place, has since died, and also jailer John Boyd.

To cap the climax it is said that John T. Cunningham, another principal prosecuting witness, is now suffering from an ailment from which he cannot recover, and will soon die.

Willis was represented by Charles K. Wheeler, of Paducah, Judge James Breathitt of Hopkinsville and John Kelly, of Cadiz.

HENRY MOORE

Nominated for Magistrate and Jim Allensworth, Jr., For Constable.

The Republican committee of the North Hopkinsville magisterial district met Saturday and nominated candidates for justice and constable. Both positions were given to the colored wing of the party. Esq. W. T. Williamson gracefully retiring in order to make room for a colored member of the Fiscal Court.

Henry Moore, a colored school teacher, was nominated for magistrate and James Allensworth, Jr., a son of James Allensworth, the county coroner and nominee for re-election, was named for constable.

AN ITALIAN EARTHQUAKE

Destroys Many Lives and Injures Hundreds More.

370 PEOPLE KILLED.

Scenes of Horror Ensur, Populace Rushing Half Garbed Into the Streets.

Rome, Sept. 9.—All Italy is suffering from terrible depression because of the news from the south, where one of the worst earthquakes ever experienced occurred yesterday. Although the earthquake was felt all over Calabria and, to a certain extent, in Sicily, the worst news comes from Pizzo and Monte Leone and from eighteen villages which are said to have been completely destroyed. According to the latest news 370 persons have been killed and a great number injured.

The shock was felt at 2.55 o'clock this morning. It lasted for eighteen seconds at Cantanzaro and soon thereafter was felt at Messina Regio, Monte Leone, Martirano, Stefani, Piscopio, Tripami, Zammara Cessanti, Naldi Olivadi and other points.

Scenes of indescribable terror ensued. Women, aroused from their sleep, rushed half clothed into the streets, screaming with fear, carrying their babies and dragging their other children and calling for help on the Madonna and the Saints. The men escaped into the open with their families, all calling on their favorite saints for protection.

BROKEN FLANGE

Causes Trouble to Illinois Central Freight Train.

A broken flange caused the derailment of a box car on the I. C. road, between Cobb and Otter Pond Saturday night. The train was a through freight from this city to Mounds, Ill., and left here at 6 p. m. When the car left the track it turned completely over. It was loaded with flour, which was badly damaged. No one was hurt, but the accident delayed trains several hours, the track being blocked for some distance. The passenger train, due here at 11 o'clock p. m., from Cairo, Ill., was annulled. The first train from Princeton to this city after the accident was the mixed train, which arrived here Sunday morning at 9:25.

FIVE OF FAMILY

Died of Diphtheria and Two More Down With Disease.

A letter from Mr. Charles Ritter, of South McAlistier, I. T., conveys the intelligence that two of his children, Charles, Jr., and Luna, who have been very ill of diphtheria, are better, and chances for their recovery are now considered good. Mr. Ritter, while living in this county in 1887, lost four children with diphtheria, and another died of the same disease in South McAlistier about three years ago.

LOST MUCH BLOOD.

Bad Accident Betfalls Mr. Barbee While at Work.

Mr. J. A. Barbee, while plastering a house in the city, fell from a scaffold Saturday and sustained serious injuries. Besides being badly bruised, one of his legs was cut, the gash being six inches long, and several stitches were necessary to close up the wound. Mr. Barbee lost much blood before a surgeon arrived, and is quite weak, but, unless complications arise, he will be out in a few days.

NO DOUBT

The I. C. Has Leased the T. C. for Term of Years.

Surface indications point to a confirmation of the I. C. Railroad Co., having leased the T. C. Two squads of men were put to work between here and Princeton Monday. The force is putting in ballast, and as nothing of this kind has been done since the road was completed it looks like the I. C. is getting ready for either putting on more trains or making faster time. Vice-President Harahan was in the city last week and General Manager Raum will be here probably today. There have been so many reports published of the T. C. being transferred to some other company that little credence is generally attached to any deal reported, but this time it seems the goods have been delivered.

Witte's the Master Mind.

It is impossible in a sketch which must be short and eclectic to unfold the complex scheme to which Witte attached his name for all time. Its ramifications run through every department of political, social, and commercial life in Russia. Its effects, like those of a revolution, will not at all disengage themselves for generations to come. That scheme comprised the reform of the Imperial Bank, the introduction of a gold standard, and the fixation of the value of the ruble; the extensive employment of foreign capital, the establishment of an alcohol monopoly, the development of savings-banks, the spread of technical education, the emancipation of peasants, dissenters, and heretics, as well as Jews, from the galling network of special restrictive legislation. In a word, it embodied all the practical corollaries of the inept reform inaugurated by Alexander II. when he struck the rusty chains off the limbs of millions of serfs. It is hardly too much to say that a good deal, perhaps most, of what is good or hope giving in the Russia of today owes its origin, its preservation, or its development to the insight and energy of Sergius Witte, as manifested in this "revolution from above."—From "Sergius Witte" by E. J. Dillon, in the American Monthly Review of Reviews for September.

Senatorial Praise for Alaska and the Klondike

John S. McLean, author of "Alaska and the Klondike," has received a letter from Senator Knute Nelson, who was head of the senatorial party that Mr. McLean accompanied during its round of investigation in Alaska. Senator Nelson says: "Your description of the conditions, the resources and the people of Alaska is so vivid, so clear and, withal, so truthful, that for a long time to come it will be, as it now is, by all odds the best description and the best portrayal of the country, its present status and its prospective future. No other book or public document that I have read, and I have read almost everything that I could find on the subject, does such full, exact and complete justice to Alaska and her people as your book. I wish every member of Congress would read it, for then, I am sure Alaska would have more interest taken in her behalf in the realm of legislation than she seems to have to-day. The most valuable result of our trip came from the fact that you were with us, and thus were enabled to give us this book."

Sentenced to Kiss His Wife.

Solomon with all his wisdom could not have equalled the sentence to Brooklyn judge administered recently. A man was before him charged by his wife with having abandoned her and their baby. "I sentence you to spend one day a week with your wife and baby, either in Prospect Park or at Coney Island," the judge said. "You accompany your wife and watch the baby play. Don't speak to each other. All you have to do is to watch the baby play. "And you are further sentenced to kiss your wife once each day. You might also take her a bunch of flowers once a week, so that she will have something pleasant to look at. You are also to pay her $3 a week for four weeks. This sentence must be carried out. If it is not you will be in contempt of court and I shall punish you."

In addition to the sentence the judge specified that all mothers-in-law were to stay away from the home, these parties having caused much of the trouble.

Pain from a Burn Promptly Relieved by Chamberlain's Pain Balm.

Mr. James N. Nichols, a merchant and postmaster at Vernon, Conn., makes the following statement: "A little child of Michael Strauss was recently in great pain from a burn on the hand, and as cold applications only increased the inflammation Mr. Strauss came to me for something to stop the little one's pain. From the many liniments I carry in stock, I advised him to use Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and the first application drew out the inflammation and gave immediate relief. I have used this liniment myself and recommend it very often for cuts, burns, strains, and lame back, and have never known it to disappoint. For sale by L. E. What Causes Cholera.

It is a fine thing—knowing how to cure cholera in fowls, but prevention of the disease is much better. Indeed, one might lose half his flock while learning how to cure it of cholera, and that would be experience altogether too dearly bought; certainly so, as the disease is largely the result of carelessness, and with proper attention can be avoided.

Truth to tell, it is very poor policy for the poultry owner who expects to succeed to think he can raise chickens in the haphazard way some farmers do—namely, feeding them morning and night, and giving the run of an enclosure similar to a filthy barnyard. He must rather attend to them in accordance with the pains demanded of anything on the farm that is expected to pay its way.

To begin with it is natural for fowls to make their surroundings unclean, especially so if narrow ones, and it is this uncleanness that breeds cholera, which so devastates the flocks in summer. Poultry, therefore, should never be overcrowded. From fifty to sixty birds is about the right number for a flock, which, in addition to commodious quarters, should have good roosting place and plenty of room for exercise. Proper ventilation should be provided, for pure air is as essential to the welfare of fowls as it is to human beings. A noxious effluvia is always exhaled from the collected droppings, and if the birds have to breathe this it acts upon them as a deadly poison. Accordingly, it is impossible for closely confined poultry to do well and lay eggs.

Another frequent cause of cholera in the poultry yard is stagnant and impure water. This, as a matter of fact, cannot be too carefully guarded against. The best of water after standing for any length of time in hot weather becomes covered with a greenish scum, and anon minute insects will be floating around in it. This stage reached, the liquid instead of being a wholesome beverage is a positive poison. It makes no difference whether the water has been standing in a drinking fountain or in a stagnant pool; either is bad enough to poison the birds. They might in reality, just as well slake their thirst at the pools that often drain from manure piles, and which is frequently done by them on the farm, where for such place if accessible to fowls, should be covered with straw or drained away to some other spot. Given fresh, clean water often enough, however, poultry will seldom touch impure liquids. Along with all the rest, musty corn should not be fed to fowls.

Would, in truth, be nothing more or less than a parasite, that is capable and often does, breed disease. If such corn is fed, it should first be thoroughly heated to kill all disease germs. But too much corn is not good to give, anyway, in warm weather. On account of its heating properties, it is liable alone to develop cholera. Hence, other grains, such as buckwheat, bran middlings, wheat and the like, should form a part of the diet of the birds. It is thus that an epidemic of cholera in the chicken yard may be averted, which is many times preferable to getting the disease and then trying to cure it.—Fred O. Sibley, in Exchange.

The Best Time to Sell

The best time to sell the poultry is when you wish to dispose of it, provided it is ready for the market. Following this, the most profitable time to sell the poultry is when you can get the highest price. The most profitable returns are gained from the selling of poultry at the time when they give you the least profits in eggs. All of this depends very largely however, in having the poultry in good condition to sell to market.

Do not go out and gather up a lot of poultry just when the notion strikes you, and send it to market to be sold, whether it is in proper condition or not. Make up your mind in advance what you are going to do separate and place in an enclosure the poultry that you intend to sell, and feed them all they want to eat of good, rich, fattening food for a week or two and bring them into a good, plump condition for market. Poultry that is overfat—so full of it as to hang down behind—never bring the best of prices in the market.

The most profit is made from poultry by having an established route of customers, who wish a good quality of fresh laid eggs and poultry and who will take some of each once or twice a week. Have enough of these to consume your full supply of poultry and eggs, cater to their tastes and obtain from them an advanced price, which is very easy to get for a good quality of stuff.—Feather.

John D. Rockefeller has attained newspaper prominence in four different ways within the last week—by wearing a wig, by riding a bicycle, by predicting hard times two years hence and by being elected an honorary member of the American Press Humorists Association at Cleveland.

Liver and Kidneys

It is highly important that these organs should properly perform their functions. When they don't, what a mess of the side and back, what yellowness of the skin, what constipation, bad taste in the mouth, sick headaches, pimples and blotches, and loss of courage, tell the story.

The great restorative and tonic

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Gives these organs vigor and tone for the proper performance of their functions, and cures all their ordinary ailments. Take it.

Priest Commissioners Green and Fennell, who are not now in "cahoot" with the rest of the state administration, have begun the removal of Beckham and Paynter Democrats from places as prison guards and it is intimated that all appointees with administration tendencies will be fired to make room for partisans of the new machine in process of formation. To emphasize the defiance of their whilom friends, the two commissioners in their first batch of victims selected a guard from Gov. Beckham's own county and a brother-in-law of Gen. Percy Haly as two of the four to feel the fall of their guillotine. Under law, guards may be removed any time and commissioners themselves may be removed by the Legislature, with or without cause. The term of Commissioner Fennell expires next winter and Eli H. Brown is a candidate for his place. Mr. Green's term does not expire for two years. The contest for control is now on between the administration and anti-administration forces, with the party organization in nearly every county in accord with the administration. It requires no prophet to tell how it will turn out.

Lost Their Little Daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Draper have the sympathy of a host of friends in the loss of their little eleven-month-old daughter, Caroline Jane, which occurred yesterday morning. The child had been ill for several months and death was due to stomach trouble. The interment will take place in Hopewell cemetery this morning at 10:30 o'clock. Services will be conducted at the grave.

John B. Ferguson Once More.

Prof. John B. Ferguson has again corrected the report given to the Leaf-Chronicle by his neighbors, who have been praying for him, to the effect that he had joined the Farmers' Association. This he has done by reprinting his platform, so pleasing to the trust, in the Twice-a-Week Star. Mr. Ferguson told the writer that "he was on the mourner's bench and coming." Now we want to state that he is off the mourner's bench, having fallen off backward and his last state is worse than the first, and we can't say a word to help him out of his last condition. Just let him alone. He is like Collins' ram—can't be persuaded or coaxed to flock with the other sheep, just will stay off with the other goats and butt at everything that comes in his way. If the Association should go over to his plans, then he would butt out and find some other way. Of course the trust people and their allies are delighted with his plan of salvation, which they have knocked out so often, and therefore urged him to have it reprinted that they might read it again and shout once more. His way of fighting the trust is to do just as the trust wants farmers to do. He can't act with his brother farmers so long as he radically differs with their methods of selling, etc., but he sympathizes with the aim of the association to get better prices. This sympathy has benefited largely. It helped him to sell his crop this year for $8 round—he could have gotten ten by demanding it; and yet he sold last year for 6 cents, which he counted above the market.

Now, is it not strange that this gentleman can't find some way of flocking with his brethren, helping those who help him, rather than flocking with their oppressors, trying to play Samson by pulling down the shelter that protects him and them.

The article in question is not at all pleasing to the boys in the furrows, who have pulled suckers and killed worms all summer to help Mr. Ferguson get fair prices for his tobacco.

We don't write this in the hope of converting Friend John, but there are others who might be led to follow his bad example of butting—Leaf Chronicle.

Help a Child to Find a Home.

The Kentucky Children's Home Society has grown to be one of the greatest child saving agencies in America. The success of the work is due to the good people of our State who have opened their hearts and homes to the homeless, destitute children under our care. Sixty or seventy bright, sweet children are sent to us each month and it is necessary in order to provide for neglected little ones to find good homes for the children now under our care.

Have you a child in your home? If you have, do you not think you could take another little one to raise and rear into good citizenship? Will you not help us by giving a home or finding a home for a child of any age from infancy to girls and boys of twelve years of age?

The Master said: "Inasmuch as ye have done it to one of the least of these, ye have done it unto me."

If you are interested in the work, write for particulars to George L. Sehon, State Supt., Room 515 Masonic Building, Louisville, Ky.

FIFTY CENTS

In some conditions the gain from the use of Scott's Emulsion is very rapid. For this reason we put up a fifty-cent size, which is enough for an ordinary cough or cold or useful as a trial for babies and children. In other conditions the gain is slower—health cannot be built up in a day. In such cases Scott's Emulsion must be taken as nourishment, a food rather than a medicine. It's a food for tired and weak digestions.

"Point Comfort Kennels."

Situated just one and one quarter miles from our beautiful and growing little city of Hopkinsville, Ky., is Mr. H. P. Ware's kennel of English and Irish Setter dogs. These kennels are owned and personally conducted by Mr. Ware, and most appropriately named, as it is surely one of nature's points of beautiful comfort. Located on one of the highest, driest, and most healthy points, carpeted by blue grass only, famous in the good old state of Kentucky, shaded by majestic oaks and watered by nature's clearest and purest waters.

A visit to these kennels and you will be well repaid, as you will see the comforts that man's best friend (the dog) should be given. Mr. Ware's yards and individual sleeping compartments for his dogs and cleanliness and comforts for each go far to show his respect and kindly feeling for the noble companion and servant.

At the head of these kennels are such individuals as "Bessie B." F. D. S. B. 6087; Mattie F. D. S. B. 2010; Daffie F. D. S. B. 7432; Nancy F. D. S. B.; Lady Penny F. D. S. B. 8824; Mae Killane F. D. S. B. 7655; Annie Glean F. D. S. B.; Rebel and Kentucky Cardinal and a yard full of English and Irish Setter puppies, sired by such noted field trial and burch winners as Oakley Hill, Count Whitestone, St. Cloud's Blarney, &c.

Mr. Ware's dogs are kept confined only at night, during the hot days having freedom to rest and sleep (when not being worked) on the grass carpeted lawn of six acres, being disturbed only by a word of caress or a hand pat of affection or by the whistle of that bird of its charms—"Bob White."

It will no doubt be of interest to the many sportsmen of our city who may be tied down by the cares of business to know that Mr. Ware reports to us that in all directions while on his daily work-outs that he finds many birds, full coveys and all fully grown.

We learn that Mr. Ware has recently sold, and shipped (at fancy prices, which are due to the breeding of his dogs) to the following states: Alabama, Georgia, Texas, Mississippi, Florida, Wisconsin, New York, Connecticut, Kentucky, California and New Mexico, and has many other orders which he cannot fill at the present time.

The Renewal of a Strain.

Vacation is over. Again the school bells ring at morning and at noon, again with tens of thousands the hardest kind of work has begun, the renewal of which is a mental and physical strain to all except the most rugged. The little girl that a few days ago had roses in her cheeks, the little boy whose lips were then so red you would have insisted that they had been "kissed by strawberries," have already lost something of the appearance of health. Now is a time when many children should be given a tonic, which may avert much serious trouble, and we know of no other so highly to be recommended as Hood's Sarsaparilla, which strengthens the nerves, perfects digestion and assimilation, and aids mental development by building up the whole system.

Coal Miners On Strike.

Madisonville, Ky., Sept. 9.—The Daniel Boone Coal Mines, located between Nortonville and St. Charles on the Illinois Central railroad, in this county, are closed down as the result of a strike among the coal miners, resulting from a reduction of wages made by the owners and managers of the property. The men claim that it figured out an average reduction of about 85 per cent. There are enough still working to take care of the property.

Clarksville Hotel Burned.

Clarksville, Tenn., Sept. 8.—The Northington, instead of the Arlington Hotel, was destroyed by fire Thursday about midnight. The hotel, which was a brick and frame structure, was a total loss. The origin of the blaze is supposed to have been incendiary, the house having been vacant for several months.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if "urine scalds" the flesh, or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit or most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same good remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one-dollar bottles. You may get a sample bottle free, also a pamphlet telling all about Swamp-Root, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Ringhams, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Ringhams, N. Y., on every bottle.

PENSACOLA IN GRIP.

Eleven New Cases in Florida Town.

Pensacola, Fla., Sept. 9.—The reports of the physicians tonight up to 6 o'clock showed eleven new cases of yellow fever today and one death. All the new cases are traceable to the original infected district but they are scattered about the city. The situation is regarded as serious, as a number of doubtful cases also have been discovered.

The death today was of C. P. Winters, of Harrison, Fla., formerly was a soldier at Fort Barrancas, but secured his discharge a week ago and came to the city. Police Officer Fisher is dying tonight.

Starting Mortality.

Statistics show startling mortality from appendicitis and peritonitis. To prevent and cure these awful diseases, there is just one reliable remedy, Dr. King's New Life Pills. Incredible Brutality.

It would have been incredible brutality if Chas. F. Lemberger, of Syracuse, N. Y., had not done the best he could for his suffering son. Hardwick's drug store.

FERIGO IS AFTER THE WHOLE DROP

Negotiations are in Progress Looking to the Sale of 10,000 Hogheads.

REGIE MAGNATES OFFER

Wants to Be a Friend to the Farmers' Protective Association.

The object of the protracted visit of Mr. Joseph Ferigo to Hopkinsville has looked out in spite of the extreme reticence of all of the big tobacco men on both sides of a deal involving 10,000 hogheads of tobacco held by the Dark Tobacco District Protective Association.

Mr. Ferigo is here to buy the entire holdings of the Association, or so much thereof as suits his purposes as purchasing agent for the Italian Regie contracts. Mr. Ferigo came here ten days ago and with his wife is still at Hotel Latham, where he is conducting the negotiations now about ready to be closed up. He came here because he was unwilling to conduct his negotiations in Clarksville and it is said wants all of the samples now at Clarksville sent here for classification.

Col. F. G. Ewing has been here twice and other Association officials have also been in and out, one and all observing an air of profound mystery and reticence.

The Association had, all told, about 14,000 hogheads of tobacco. Of this, 3,000 hogheads have been sold. It is believed that Mr. Ferigo can use at least 10,000 hogheads of the tobacco now on hand, leaving only 1,000 hogheads of low grade to be disposed of to snuff factories. It is said that the Association will meet the Regie agent on a reasonable basis, and that the agreed prices will range from $6.50 to $11 per hundred.

It is also rumored that Mr. Ferigo is anxious to be on most amicable terms with the Association hereafter, that the powerful monopoly built up by the American Tobacco Trust is endangering his contracts and he needs some organization to act as a middleman to keep his particular types of tobacco in a position to be bought in wholesale lots as needed. Those who are having dealings with the Regie magnate are finding him a most agreeable gentleman, apparently more than willing to settle things not only now but for the future on a friendly basis.

There may be some inaccuracies in the news features of this article, but there are more facts than errors. In the absence of a plain statement of what is being done, we must of necessity gather up such news as we can.

It may be that at the last moment negotiations may fail, but this is not regarded now as among the probabilities.

The sewer contractors are taxing the patience of the public by keeping the ditch in the middle of Main street open so long. It was dug two weeks ago and should not have been opened at all until the pipe was put to be laid. Would it not be a good idea to fill up the ditch and open it when it is needed?

SPORTS AND ATHLETICS

Ralph Rose, regarded by athletic authorities as the greatest weight-thrower of the age, met his Waterloo when W. W. Coe, of Boston, took him in the national athletic championship at Portland, Ore., to take his measure and set a new world's mark in the shot put. Coe tossed the weight 49 feet 6 inches, raising the record, just 11 inches. In the meet, in which he participated, the Chicago Athletic association, under whose colors Rose competed, was victorious with 60 points, while the club's nearest rival scored but 28. Since Rose's advent from the Pacific coast into the University of Michigan, he has been regarded as a marvel and without a peer in weight events. The shot-put has been his forte and in this stunt Rose had never been defeated until Coe by his marvelous gun carried off the victory at the Portland games. At the University of Michigan, one year was enough to drench Rose's ambitious spirit. After leaving the University, he appeared in the limelight in Tennessee. The Chicago Athletic association being in need of weight-throwers, secured his services and he tossed the shot-put under the cherry circle colors with the greatest kind of success since that time. At a Chicago meet last winter he demonstrated his great strength against Coe by tossing the shot far beyond the vision of the Boston athlete, thus causing the special event, prepared especially for the visiting fellows, to closely resemble a farce with Coe as leading clown. Rose's make-up is largely on the order of that of Babe Ruth, of baseball fame. He is eccentric in the extreme and his trainers know too well that the most tender handling is necessary to bring out his ability. In Rose's defeat of Coe there is an athletic marvel, which any young athlete of ability cannot afford to overlook. Rose at times will work like a beaver, preparing himself for his events, but at other times shoddy, sloth and hammer throwing become laudable and for weeks at a time his training will be neglected simply for the reason that he considers himself invincible. His work in the shot before the Portland meet was an example of his system of training. He would work hard at times, but with no semblance of regularity. Mike Butler, head trainer at the Chicago Athletic association, noticed the laxness of his routine and in the argument which followed the paid indulged in a misapprehension that ended with the California giant being exiled to the back of the stable. Butler's chest is a record of consistent worker and after his record-breaking shot-put he declared that he had been working four years for this single laurel. Coe is a superb athlete, having trained with regularity and consistency and one medal which he now wears, answers the question: Which is the better training system—Rose's or his?

Wrestling appears to have gained a new lease of life in this country, and the grapplers are gathering a harvest of success. As a result, his nearly all the large cities of the country are holding important matches have been pulled off, or at least prominent wrestlers have appeared before the public and given exhibitions. Jenkins is the best of the modern American grapplers, although at present it seems as though Frank Gotch, the Iowa boy, is bound to succeed him in the near future. George Hackenschmidt's appearance in the United States at this time has had considerable to do with the boom in the game of grappling. The debates in the press and magazines about the relative merits of jiu-jitsu and wrestling have also attracted attention. At any rate, the game seems to enjoy more popularity at the present moment than it has at any time during the last ten years. And it is up to the wrestling fraternity to bring wrestling up to a higher standard of popularity even than it enjoys now. The many and clever fakirs pulled off by wrestlers in the past have detracted from the sport, and lost to it the popular favor it at one time enjoyed. As an exhibition of science and force wrestling is exceedingly spectacular. There are hundreds of chances for a man to be killed, and no man but a very powerful one can ever become a world's champion at this game. Nearly all countries have produced grappleers of note, but the most picturesque grapplers come from the domain of the Sultan. The Turks are a picturesque people, but in nothing do they display their qualities more than in the wrestling game.

Grapplers from the orient do not wrestle exactly like the western wrestlers, but they are generally better than they are much more powerful. And how these Turks accumulate their wonderful force is a mystery to the ordinary wrestler. Usually to gain any amount of fame as a mat artist in America requires a course of careful gymnastics covering a period of years.

Automobile races, participated in by amateurs from all over the state of Illinois, are to be a feature of the speed racing programme of the Illinois state fair this fall.

September 9th marks an epoch never to be forgotten by old or young, as it was the only reunion ever held by them, and will no doubt be the last.

The older members are nearing the brink of the river of death. "That awful river so dread to see," and will soon close their eyes upon their loved ones here.

Many feet traversed the house and grounds of the old homestead, which holds so many memories for both old and young.

Voices of little ones rang out in merriment, while the real significance of the occasion, will only be realized in the distant future, when they too mark the rapidly fleeting years.

The tables were heartily laden with all the good things the ladies could prepare, and which was served with unbounded hospitality.

In the adjoining grove, over a long trench, several sheep and a round pig were offered as sacrifices to furnish meat for the party.

After the dinner was over, the people seated themselves upon the lawn and listened to remarks from different members.

Mr. James Cayce rested upon a cot beneath the shade of wide spreading trees, where he could listen to the repetition of oft told tales of hardships endured in the distant past, where only honesty, integrity and action could bring about the results—namely, home and competence.

The moral attached was closely in touch with the words of Solomon: "Whatever thy hand findeth to do, do with thy might."

Mr. I. Cayce was the instigator of the affair, and his mind has been filled with apprehension, but the day was ideal and all passed off pleasantly. To-day finds him weak, but quite content as to the result.

Many thoughts surged through my brain and I wondered how long it is before the chain would be broken and link by link laid aside to be re-linked on that distant shore, from which no traveler returns. The river of life is bridged by many fancies and it's only when we near the opposite shore do we feel a certainty of their strength. We tread carefully, step by step, our minds filled with apprehension and doubt. It's only when we understand how to muster our forces into action do we walk without fear and trembling.

By generating new forces and sending out new vibrations, are we enabled to aid others and bring into action the many forces lying dormant within them.

A NUMBER ATTENDED.

Occasion One Long to Be Remembered By All Present.

(CONTRIBUTED.)

"It's home where the heart is!" "Be it ever so humble, there's no place like home."

The great event in the lives of the Cayce and Major families has taken place.

September 9th marks an epoch never to be forgotten by old or young, as it was the only reunion ever held by them, and will no doubt be the last.

The older members are nearing the brink of the river of death. "That awful river so dread to see," and will soon close their eyes upon their loved ones here.

Many feet traversed the house and grounds of the old homestead, which holds so many memories for both old and young.

Voices of little ones rang out in merriment, while the real significance of the occasion, will only be realized in the distant future, when they too mark the rapidly fleeting years.

The tables were heartily laden with all the good things the ladies could prepare, and which was served with unbounded hospitality.

In the adjoining grove, over a long trench, several sheep and a round pig were offered as sacrifices to furnish meat for the party.

After the dinner was over, the people seated themselves upon the lawn and listened to remarks from different members.

Mr. James Cayce rested upon a cot beneath the shade of wide spreading trees, where he could listen to the repetition of oft told tales of hardships endured in the distant past, where only honesty, integrity and action could bring about the results—namely, home and competence.

The moral attached was closely in touch with the words of Solomon: "Whatever thy hand findeth to do, do with thy might."

Mr. I. Cayce was the instigator of the affair, and his mind has been filled with apprehension, but the day was ideal and all passed off pleasantly. To-day finds him weak, but quite content as to the result.

Many thoughts surged through my brain and I wondered how long it is before the chain would be broken and link by link laid aside to be re-linked on that distant shore, from which no traveler returns. The river of life is bridged by many fancies and it's only when we near the opposite shore do we feel a certainty of their strength. We tread carefully, step by step, our minds filled with apprehension and doubt. It's only when we understand how to muster our forces into action do we walk without fear and trembling.

By generating new forces and sending out new vibrations, are we enabled to aid others and bring into action the many forces lying dormant within them.

"Genius, like an electric flame; Awake in one—in others make the same."

YELLOW FEVER.

Seven Deaths Sunday in New Orleans.

New Orleans, Sept. 11.—The unfavorable part of the Sunday yellow fever report is the unusually large number of deaths. Another distinguished member of the Roman Catholic clergy is in the list—Father L. E. Green, of the Jesuit College. He died at 4 o'clock this afternoon, after being ill exactly a week. He was stricken with a chill last Sunday, just after delivering a lecture, but thought nothing of it. The next day he visited a room in the college which had been screened, and made ready for emergencies, in accordance with the suggestion of Dr. White, and jokingly remarked to one of his colleagues that they had the room ready now and only needed the first occupant. A few hours later he was the occupant.

Report to 6 p. m. Sunday:

New cases	27
Total to date	2,390
Deaths	7
Total deaths	316
New foci	293
Cases under treatment	1,677

In other places 34 new cases were reported and 6 deaths. One new case at Natchez, 4 at Vicksburg and none at Pensacola.

NO ITCHING OR TELL SUFFERING

From Itching and Bleeding Eczema—Pain Terrible—Body and Face Covered with Sores—Doctors and Medicines Failed.

ANOTHER WONDERFUL CURE BY CUTICURA

"No tongue can tell how I suffered for five years with itching and bleeding eczema, until I was cured by the Cuticura Remedies, and I am so grateful I want the world to know, for what helped me will help others. My body and face were covered with sores. One day it would seem to be better, and then break out again with the most terrible pain and itching. I have been sick several times, but never in my life did I experience such awful suffering as with this eczema. I had made up my mind that death was near at hand, and I longed for that time when I would be at rest. I had tried many remedies, but without success, and my mother brought me the Cuticura Remedies, insisting that I try them. I began to feel better after the first bath with Cuticura Soap, and one application of Cuticura Ointment. I continued with the Soap and Ointment, and have taken four bottles of Cuticura Resolvent, and consider myself cured. Any person having any doubt about this wonderful cure by the Cuticura Remedies, can write to my address, Mrs. Altie Eason, Bellevue, Mich."

ITCHING ECZEMA And All Other Itching and Scaly Eruptions Cured by Cuticura.

The agonizing itching and burning of the skin, as in eczema; the frightful scaling, as in psoriasis; the loss of hair and crusting of scalp, as in dandruff; all demand a remedy of almost superhuman virtues to successfully cope with them. That Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Pills are such stand proven beyond all doubt.

Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Pills are sold throughout the world. Write for full particulars. Address: "How to Cure Eczema," etc.

WEARS GRAY WIG Makes First Appearance in Church and Is Much Embarrassed

Cleveland, O., Sept. 10.—Jno D. Rockefeller at last has hair on his head or rather, he did have to-day when he appeared at the Euclid Avenue Baptist Church. It was a steel gray, closely chopped in the back and trimmed round. The oil king wore it with evident embarrassment. It was the first time the congregation had seen him otherwise than with a very bald head for many months.

Such a remarkable growth in a single week was disconcerting, to say the least. The brethren clasped Mr. Rockefeller's hand as usual at the close of the service, but there was an unnatural air of restraint that the petroleum magnate was not slow to notice, and he escaped to his automobile with an evident feeling of relief.

Important Meeting.

There will be an important meeting Thursday night of Evergreen Lodge No. 38, Knights of Pythias. A full attendance of the membership is desired.

State College of Kentucky, Lexington, Ky.

The Agricultural and Mechanical (State College) of Kentucky offers the following courses of study, viz: Agricultural, Horticultural, Chemical, Biological, Mathematical, Physical, Normal School, Classical, Mechanical Engineering, Electrical Engineering, Civil Engineering, and Mining Engineering, each of which extends over four years and leads to a degree. Post graduate studies are also provided, leading to a master's degree. Each course of study is organized under an associate faculty. The general faculty number nearly fifty professors and instructors.

County appointees receive free tuition, room rent in the dormitories, and light, and if they travel ten months, traveling expenses.

The laboratories and museums are large, well equipped, comprehensive and modern.

The Legislature appropriated $60,000 for a college home for young women and $30,000 for drill hall and gymnasium for men. Both buildings are completed and in use. Military tactics and science are fully provided for as required by Congress.

Graduates from the several courses of study readily find excellent positions and liberal remuneration. The demand is largely in excess of the ability of the College to supply.

Specialists with the necessary number of assistants have charge of each department of natural science. Summer schools are provided for pedagogy, engineering, instruction in science and in arts.

The State College of Kentucky, though bearing hitherto the title of "colleges," is the only institution in the Commonwealth doing, in any proper sense, university work.

The completion of the College home for young women provides facilities for good board and lodging. It is equipped with all modern conveniences, including bath rooms and room for physical culture. It is heated by steam and lighted by electricity.

An opportunity is thus afforded to young women of obtaining a thorough education in classics, modern languages, literature, science, mathematics, logic, metaphysics, history, and political economy.

No other institution in the State offers advantages for education of women at all comparable to those offered by the State College of Kentucky.

RENSHAW & ARMSTRONG.

The English Sparrow

No one, as far as we can tell, has a fondness for the English sparrow. Like the chimney and barn swallow they are voted a public nuisance. Although the opinion that nothing was created without a purpose is accepted, we should class the sparrow with weeds, hen lice and flint, which can all be reduced to a minimum nuisance by partially obliterating them from existence. We must dig up and burn the weeds to save our land from them; a constant fight must be waged against the hen lice and other insect vermin to prevent their overrunning the place; the same vigilance must be kept up against the sparrows, other birds or animals that destroy property.

The English sparrow or the black bird provide meat for a bird pie. Hundreds, yes thousands, of the sparrows are served as red birds in our restaurants. They are plump, toothsome, and ever ready for the spit, and although rather small, numbers overcome this. Smothered in the sauce, like quail or other birds, they are the equal of any for flavor. When destroyed they need not be wasted. Mixed with pigeons or squabs, they are accomplished without labor. Good results demand more or less labor in all things.—Feather.

Beautiful Women.

Plump cheeks, flushed with the soft glow of health and a pure complexion, make all women beautiful. Take a small dose of Herbine after each meal; it will prevent indigestion and help digest what you have eaten. Mrs. Wm. M. Strong, Midlothian, Tex., writes, May 31, 1901: "We have used Herbine in our family for eight years, and find it the best medicine we ever used for constipation, bilious fever and malaria."

Abscess.

Abscesses, with few exceptions, are indicative of constipation or deribility.

W. H. Harrison, Cleveland, Miss., writes, August 15, 1902: "I want to say a word of praise for Ballard's Snow Liniment. I stepped on a nail, which caused the cords in my leg to contract and an abscess to rise in my knee, and the doctor told me that I would have a stiff leg, so one day I went to J. P. Lord drug store (who is now in Denver, Colo.) He recommended a bottle of Snow Liniment; I got a 50c size, and it cured my leg. It is the best liniment in the world. Sold by Cook & Higgins."

NEW COAST SENATOR.

Frank Flint, California's Recently Elected Solon, has Brilliant Career.

Frank Flint, recently elected to the seat of Thomas R. Bard in the United States Senate, came very near being a native of California.

He missed it two years, having been born in Massachusetts before his parents moved. He has lived in Los Angeles more than twenty years, and is perhaps the most popular member of the community. His personal attractions are equal to his ability. He has the faculty of winning and keeping friends, and his warmest admirers are found among his political opponents.

One of the leading Democrats in this city told me the other day that Frank Flint was the brightest man in California and that no one in the state had a more promising career before him.

In manners and conversation he reminds me of the late Senator Wolcott when he was in an amiable mood; but unfortunately for Mr. Flint and his supporters, he looks Wolcott's erratic habits and selfish disposition. He has won considerable reputation as an orator, but has never cultivated it.

He has been a business attorney, and has not had much chance to "show off" in court. He has always been able to take care of himself in a controversy, however, and is expected to do so when he appears on the floor of the Senate.

Mr. Flint will be one of the youngest if not the youngest member of the Senate, as he is only 43 years old. He is full-blooded, vigorous in mind and body, plays golf and is fond of fishing. He tells a good story, has a keen sense of humor, a hearty laugh, and adapts himself to all circumstances and all kinds of surroundings with easy affability. He puts on no airs, but as a local reporter expressed it, is "an everyday sort of fellow, and can be approached from all sides."

The only public office he ever held was that of United States attorney for the southern district of the state during McKinley's first term, and he acquitted himself with great credit and satisfaction to the bar association and the business interests of the community.—Wm. E. Curtis.

PURE GOLD IS UNVARYING.

The Different Tints Seen in Money or Jewelry Are Caused by the Alloy Used.

The idea that gold varies somewhat in color according to the locality in which it is found is widely prevalent among miners and money changers and handlers in the gold producing districts, but such notion is, on the authority of experts at the Philadelphia mint, wholly erroneous, says the Philadelphia Record.

Pure gold—that is gold without any alloy or other impurity—is of one unvarying, unchanging color. Few people, however, see such gold. All the gold of commerce used either as money or jewelry has alloy in it after it is manufactured into the desired article. Even the nugget of gold, which is sometimes quite pure, is covered with dirt and stains on the outside that conceal its true color, and all gold dust which is melted at the place of mining contains impurities which go into the bar.

This is the reason why Mexican gold, for instance, has a redder tinge than that of California, and the same is true whether it is a piece of money or of jewelry.

The redder tinge is caused by the presence of copper and the paler tinge by silver, and in the mints of the different countries the amount and kind of alloy used differ sufficiently to give different tints to the money.

The Uselessness of It.

The Doctor—Isn't it painful to think of the Professor—I presume it is. Let us not think of it.—Chicago Tribune.

PENITENTIARY COAL.

Contract Awarded to a Hopkinsville Man.

Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 6.—The State Board of Prison Commissioners today awarded to T. B. Troendle, of Hopkinsville, the contract for supplying coal to the Frankfort penitentiary for the ensuing year for $2.20 per ton delivered at the institution.

BAD STOMACH

Attended with tainted, offensive, or foul breath, bitter taste, especially in the morning, flatulence, water-brash, bilious headaches, poor or irregular appetite, sour stomach, "water-brash," constipation with strong tendency to "the blues," or depression, are all remedied and cured by the faithful use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. No man can be stronger than his stomach; when it gets out of order he becomes bilious, dyspeptic, irritable, nervous, and "out of sorts"; he feels jagged, tired and "all agog."

Nothing will move speedily or permanently invigorate and tone into action, (try and believe that) Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is compounded from the active principles of the most powerful and healthful medicinal plants, without the use of alcohol, not a drop of which enters into its composition. The benefits felt from its use is not, therefore, due to alcoholic stimulation, and consequently of short duration, but is enduring and permanent.

The great majority of diseases have their inception in a bad stomach, indigestion, biliousness and impure blood. Among these diseases are deadly consumption, scurvy, rheumatism, nervous prostration and exhaustion, body-torturing rheumatism, insanity, breeding neuritis, smacking malaria and all manner of disgusting blood and skin diseases. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a cure for all these diseases, if taken in the early stages of the disease. It is not a cure-all, but the reason the diseases mentioned for the cure they are caused and aggravated by the same disorders. It makes the appetite keen, the blood pure and builds firm flesh and healthy nerve force. Don't be wheedled by a penny-saving dealer into taking something else said to be "just as good" only that he may make a greater profit. There's nothing "just as good" as "Golden Medical Discovery."

Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., writes: "I have been a sufferer from a bad stomach for many years. I could scarcely eat anything without feeling sick. I used various medicines without good effect. I bought a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and it proved so satisfactory that I bought several more bottles of the medicine and used it until I was entirely well. That was about four months ago. Since then I have been in the best of health. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery; also to prove its worth, I know it to be the best in the country."—J. M. WILLIAMS, N. Y.

Gasoline for Power Purposes.

At the beginning of the twentieth century we find gasoline even in its infancy threatening to supersede coal as a producer of motive power, light, and heat. As a competitor of steam it has already supplanted its old and well-tried rival in the smaller units, especially in marine use, and we daily note its adoption in new fields. Unlike many producers of power which have appeared in the past two decades, it has universally proved a commercial success to whatever purpose adapted. Although most people have some idea in a vague way of what gasoline really is, few understand its true composition. Without entering into a detailed description of producing it, we can perhaps best explain to the layman that it is a product of crude oil, or petroleum, obtained during the process of distillation. In refining the crude petroleum we extract different grades of oils in their turn, and in this process we come to the lighter and more volatile products known as gasoline, naphtha and benzine, the difference being but a few degrees in their specific gravity.

In the use of gasoline for power purposes we have to employ mechanical means to control or convert its energies; thus, we have the motor known as the gas or gasoline engine. The gasoline engine, as now made is an adoption of the steam engine, employing the gas produced by gasoline as a means of energy. Contrary to the general understanding, the gas or gasoline engine is but a high-pressure calorific motor. The power in the gasoline motor is derived by igniting the gas produced in the cylinder, which in turn by its heat expands, the atmosphere imparting energy to the piston by its expansion. A common error is the supposition that the explosion of the gas produces the power, the same as a blow from a hammer, whereas it is the heat generated by the ignition of the compressed gases acting expansively.—From "The Age of Gasoline," by F. K. Grain, M. E., in the American Monthly Review of Reviews for September.

Oklahoma and Statehood.

According to mythology, Minerva had no childhood, but sprang full-armed, a vigorous young woman, from the head of Jupiter. Oklahoma is the Minerva of the States. With her there was no period of slow growth. On the day that her borders were opened to the settler she sprang full-fledged, a vigorous young commonwealth, into the Union. And on the day that Congress admits her to Statehood she will rank with the foremost of the Western States. Her population of a million and three hundred thousand,—which is the combined population of Oklahoma and Indian Territory, according to the annual report of Governor Ferguson for the year ending June 30, 1904; it is probably somewhat more than that now,—will place her in advance of at least twenty-one of her sister States, several of them among the original thirteen. Not counting Texas, only two States west of the Missouri will be her equal in number of people—Kansas and California. In old New England three States,—New Hampshire, Vermont and Rhode Island,—could be combined and still not contain as great a population as this new commonwealth in the West will have on the first day of its Statehood.—From "Oklahoma, a Vigorous Western Commonwealth," by Clarence H. Matson, in the American Monthly Review of Reviews for September.

TOBACCO MEN ARE ACTIVE.

Two Big Barbecues Held Saturday for Organization.

ONE IN THIS COUNTY.

Congressmen Stanley and Gaines Both Made Speeches.

The Dark Tobacco District Association held a rally at Carl Saturday with a large crowd in attendance. Nearly all of the county candidates were present and it was a fine day for shaking hands with the voters. The Society of Equity, whose county representative lives in that district, is acting in accord with the tobacco association, and the farmers are now well organized in North Christian.

Another big meeting was held at Trenton the same day and several prominent men made speeches. In a speech delivered by Congressman John W. Gaines, of Tennessee, before one thousand members of the Dark Tobacco Growers' Association, he declared that in a recent interview with President Roosevelt the latter had made a statement that the tobacco trust was the worst enemy to the country's interest of any public institution. The machinations of this combine, the president said, "resulted in putting one of my best friends in Virginia out of business."

Hon. A. O. Stanley was the principal speaker of the occasion. Congressman Stanley has been an active and earnest worker in the interest of the tobacco growers and has proven himself one of the ablest opponents of the trusts.

At both places there was an abundance of dinner. At Trenton there were 100 carcasses of barbecued meats.

FOUR HORSES DESTROYED.

In a Fire at the Consumers Ice Company's Stables.

PARTIALLY INSURED.

Accident to the Hose Made It Difficult to Fight the Flames.

At last we have had a real, sure-enough, old-time fire—things actually burned up and the building burned to the ground.

Saturday night the stables of the Consumers Ice Co., by some unknown means, caught on fire and in a few minutes was in a bright blaze. The fire department was called and made quick response, but was incapacitated from doing much service by the bursting of the hose by excessive pressure. This pressure is either light or heavy according to the amount of water in the stand-pipe. When the water company stopped, pumping Saturday night the stand-pipe was full, which gave a pressure of 95 lbs. to the square inch. When the fire broke out about 10:30 enough water had been used to reduce the pressure to 30 pounds. At no time did the register at the office of the company indicate less than 70 pounds. The fire department had to use about 800 feet of hose and make their attachment at Clay and Fourth streets. This was more than the hose would bear and several times it split in different sections.

Mr. R. H. Holland, the manager, says he has not the least idea how the fire originated and does not think it was the work of an incendiary.

The company and nine horses in the stable; four of them escaped after one of the doors had been broken open, and in their flight ran out North Main street as far as Mr. Low Johnson's. Four others were burned to death and one, it is thought, will never be of any value, as its eyes are so badly burned that it will be blind. Fortunately only one wagon was burned, but all the harness and five tons of hay were consumed. As before stated, the stable was burned to the ground.

The company had its horses insured with Higgins & Son at $75 per head. The wagons and harness were also insured. Mr. Holland says that the company's loss will not exceed $200. The loss of the hay, added to the amount in excess of what it will cost to purchase other horses and another wagon, will cause the company to sustain this $200 loss. The loss on the building was fully covered.

Sparks.

The attaching of the company's hose, though small, saved the office building.

The roof of the machinery building was covered with sparks all the time, but a force of men with brooms kept the pitch from igniting.

This is said to be the first large fire since the burning of the Electric Light plant.

There were probably 1,500 people out to see the conflagration.

The sufferings of the poor burning animals was horrible to witness.

Mr. Holland says that when he learned that there was a fire in town he located it somewhere else—and went back to bed. As fires have been so promptly extinguished of late years he did not think there would be a fire worth going to.

The company made its usual ice delivery Sunday, owing to the kindness of the Forbes M'f'g. Co., the Woodbridges and others in loaning wagons, harness and horses.
